FLOREAN MUSEUM

The International Painting Salon “Carbunari 2009”

Art. I

FLOREAN MUSEUM organizes the third edition of the International Painting Salon in September 2009. The purpose of this salon is to promote and support contemporary art.

The Salon is a contest endowed with substantial prizes that are granted by a qualified jury.

Art. II

The Salon is open for all the artists around the world. There are no restrictions and no preliminary selection as we believe that any interference with the artist's work including a preselection constitutes an act of censorship, an act against the free development of art. The only one who can decide which works will be exhibited is the artist himself and the jury will deliberate the awarding of prizes.

One can participate with an unlimited number of works but in order to take part in the prizes awarding contest, there must be exhibited at least 2 works. The artists who will participate with minimum 30 works, will benefit of one self exhibition hall for the exposure. In order to have an objective judgement on the artistic quality, the jury recommends paintings in large dimensions.

Any painting technique or dimension, no matter the support, is being accepted. In order to offer the artists the chance to introduce works that represent their creation best, the contest is theme free.

Art. III

The 1st prize - 5.000 $;
The 2nd prize - 3.500 $;
